Bursaries for Doctoral Students: Now Open

The United States-Israel Educational Foundation (Fulbright) is offering 16 Fulbright Scholarships for Doctoral Students for the academic year 2019/2020. Scholarships will be awarded to outstanding students who wish to start their doctoral studies in the United States at a university in 2019/2020, at a public research institution or a private research institution not for profit.

The amount awarded is $37,500 for 12 months. The scholarship is intended for students from all fields of study except medicine, or those who are primarily engaged in clinical care.

Citizenship of Israel is required. Dual citizens of the United States and Israel, or permanent residents of the United States are not eligible to apply.

Applicants who have completed their doctorate during the two years prior to the application deadline will receive priority.

The application deadline is August 1, 2017.

Applications must be submitted by December 1, 2017.
